

Smarter Quarterly Newsletter

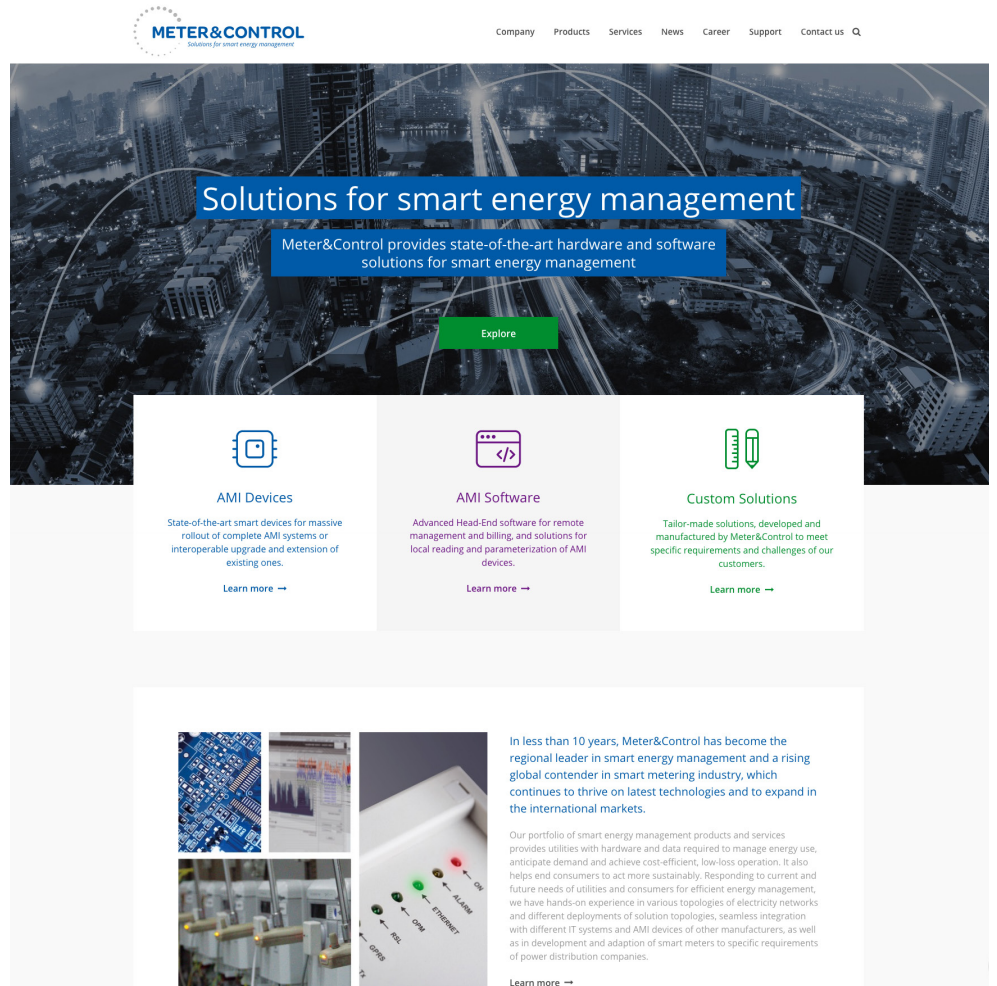

meterandcontrol.com 2.0 is now online

Our new website is the primary source for quickly getting in touch with us and quickly finding company and products info

Yes, we know: it's been a while since we have last redesigned our website, and now the new and updated www.meterandcontrol.com is finally online. It is the part of our new corporate identity and brand design which we launched last year. But the main purpose with which the new web site was created is to serve as the main information resource about the company, portfolio and product info in a sleek web design and through quick and easy navigation.

Get to know Meter&Control, who we are, which values we thrive on, and which mission and vision we serve. Discover our portfolio, detailed product features and how we can create customized solutions to efficiently respond to your requirements and challenges. Read about the technology behind our products in blog section and find out what is happening right now at Meter&Control in the news section. You can easily get in touch with the right department for your query through the contact form and we will get back to you. Finally, don't miss to register for our quarterly newsletter.

Make sure you visit and bookmark our website today to stay updated. ●

Meter&Control joins the ESMIG Association

The leading European smart metering group admits its first member from Serbia

We are proud to announce our membership at ESMIG Association, the European Smart Metering Industry Group. ESMIG represents companies which provide products, information technology and services for multi-commodity metering, display and management of energy consumption and production at customer premises and gathers over 30 leading manufacturers ESMIG members are at the common task of making energy cleaner, more affordable and more reliable.

At Meter&Control, we are confident that our participation in ESMIG activities will help advance technical, regulatory and market aspects of smart energy management, both globally and in the region. We also believe that it will ultimately bring additional benefits to utilities and to end consumers by raising the efficiency and sustainability of how energy is managed and consumed. ●

A reminder on our core values

Everything we strive for and create is smart in prefix and essence: from smart energy management, we develop, to smart preservation of the environment and natural resources we always have in mind. Our ultimate goal is to support and power smart cities and become their integral part by providing solutions for better energy management.
